Stakeholders (continued)

DoSomething.org Board of Directors:
Old people who give us major love. We <3 Our Board — These are the people who are legally and fiscally responsible for DoSomething.org. They’re sort of like owners, but instead of cutting up the profits (there are none), they give us advice, support, money, and their first-born child. We meet as a group at least four times a year. And we email, call, and Facebook with them in between meetings. (Buffone likes to post gorgeous sunset photos on Facebook.)

David Brinker:
David is the Head of Business and Corporate Development for Content at Snapchat. When he’s not working, he can be found searching for the best ice cream and pizza in NYC with his two kids.

Steve Buffone:
Retired big lawyer at big law firm, Gibson Dunn & Crutcher. (He is very tall.) He has been on the Board since the beginning — and his firm has given us over a million dollars in pro bono legal services! We’re super lucky.

Matt Diamond as JT:
This is the lucky guy who oversees powerhouses like Smosh, Gossip Girl, The Vampire Diaries, and The Sisterhood of the Traveling Pants. He is an Investor and Entrepreneur.

John Faucher:
John serves as Senior VP at Colgate-Palmolive. While that sounds kinda boring, he is actually a super fun, super smart guy.

Matthew Mugo Fields:
Matthew is super passionate about tech + teens so he started several K-12 education start-ups and he is currently an Executive Vice President at Houghton Mifflin Harcourt. BONUS: he is also a proud Morehouse Man and pretty impressive dancer.

Icema Gibbs:
Icema is the Director of Corporate Social Responsibility for one of the coolest companies in the world, JetBlue, the official airline of DoSomething.org. She’s as fabulous as her company.

Raj Kapoor:
Raj is an e-commerce, online advertising, and internet infrastructure whiz. Currently, Raj is the Chief Strategy Officer at Lyft. He was previously the co-founder and CEO of Snapfish and fitmob.

Cory Levy:
Cory is the Co-Founder and COO of After School App. Once active in DoSomething.org campaigns while a teen, he is now creating a place for teens to be themselves while connecting and sharing with friends from their high school.

Jennifer Strybel:
Jennifer is the COO of HSBC USA and an organizational rockstar. HSBC is the 6th largest bank in the world so yeah, she’s kind of a big deal. She’s one of the most senior women on the team and is super passionate about diversity and employee success.

DoSomething.org Advisory Board:
Amazing folks who make us smarter, better, faster, stronger. We have lots of committees within our Advisory Board because we do lots of stuff — and love lots of help. Each committee is comprised of people who let us draft off their talent, intelligence, and experience. (They have plenty of each.)
